

e-Summer School FAQ

How many e-Summer School courses can I take?

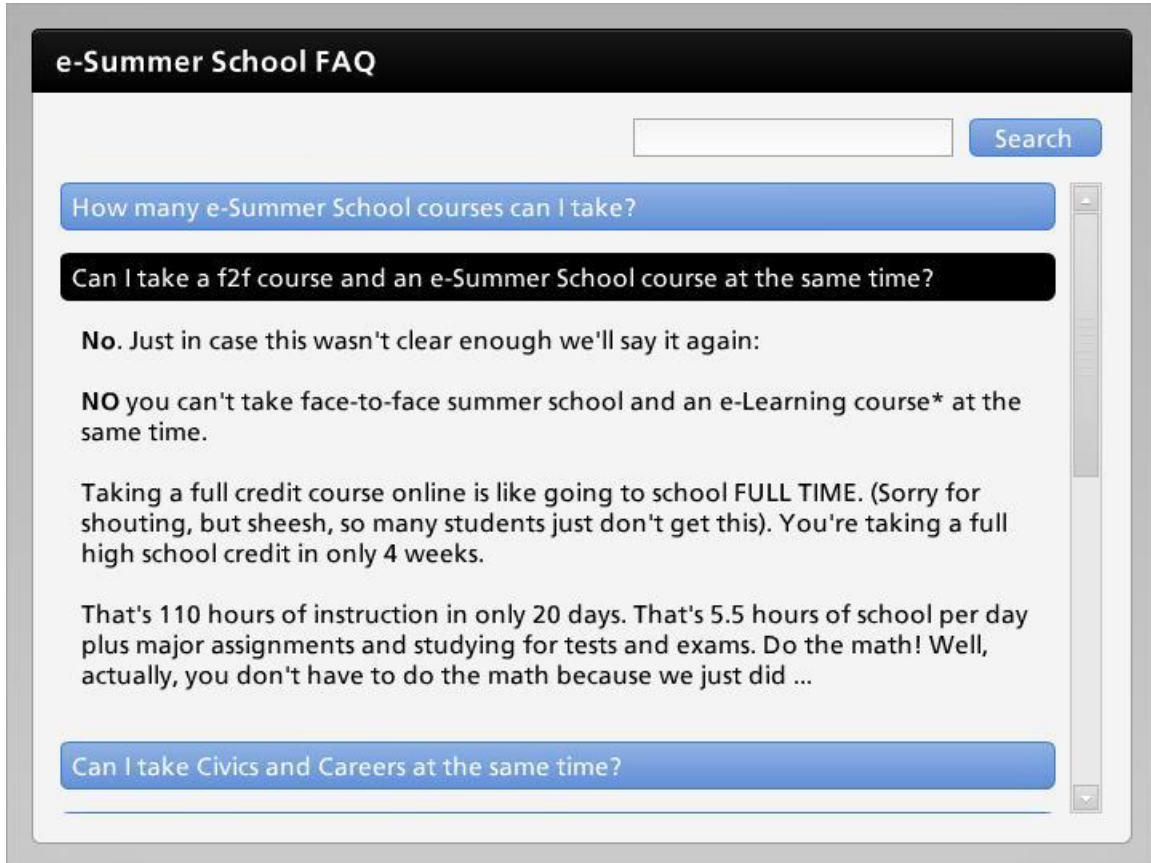

The screenshot shows a web page titled "e-Summer School FAQ". At the top right, there is a search bar and a "Search" button. The main content area has a dark header with the title "e-Summer School FAQ". Below the header, the question "How many e-Summer School courses can I take?" is highlighted in a dark box. The answer text follows: "You can take one full credit course per session during e-Summer School. That means a maximum of one full credit course in Session 1(July) and one full credit course in Session 2 (August). While 2 courses is the allowable maximum, we recommend that you take only 1 course in the summer so you'll have some time to enjoy your vacation." Below the answer, there are four blue buttons with white text, each containing a question: "Can I take a f2f course and an e-Summer School course at the same time?", "Can I take Civics and Careers at the same time?", "I'm not a Toronto District School Board student. Can I take an e-Summer School ...", and "How much does it cost to take an e-Summer School course?". A vertical scrollbar is visible on the right side of the content area.

Can I take a f2f course and an e-Summer School course at the same time?

The screenshot shows a web page titled "e-Summer School FAQ". At the top right, there is a search bar with a "Search" button. Below the search bar, there are several FAQ items. The first item is "How many e-Summer School courses can I take?". The second item, which is highlighted in black, is "Can I take a f2f course and an e-Summer School course at the same time?". The answer to this question is: "No. Just in case this wasn't clear enough we'll say it again: NO you can't take face-to-face summer school and an e-Learning course* at the same time. Taking a full credit course online is like going to school FULL TIME. (Sorry for shouting, but sheesh, so many students just don't get this). You're taking a full high school credit in only 4 weeks. That's 110 hours of instruction in only 20 days. That's 5.5 hours of school per day plus major assignments and studying for tests and exams. Do the math! Well, actually, you don't have to do the math because we just did ...". Below this answer, there is another FAQ item: "Can I take Civics and Careers at the same time?".

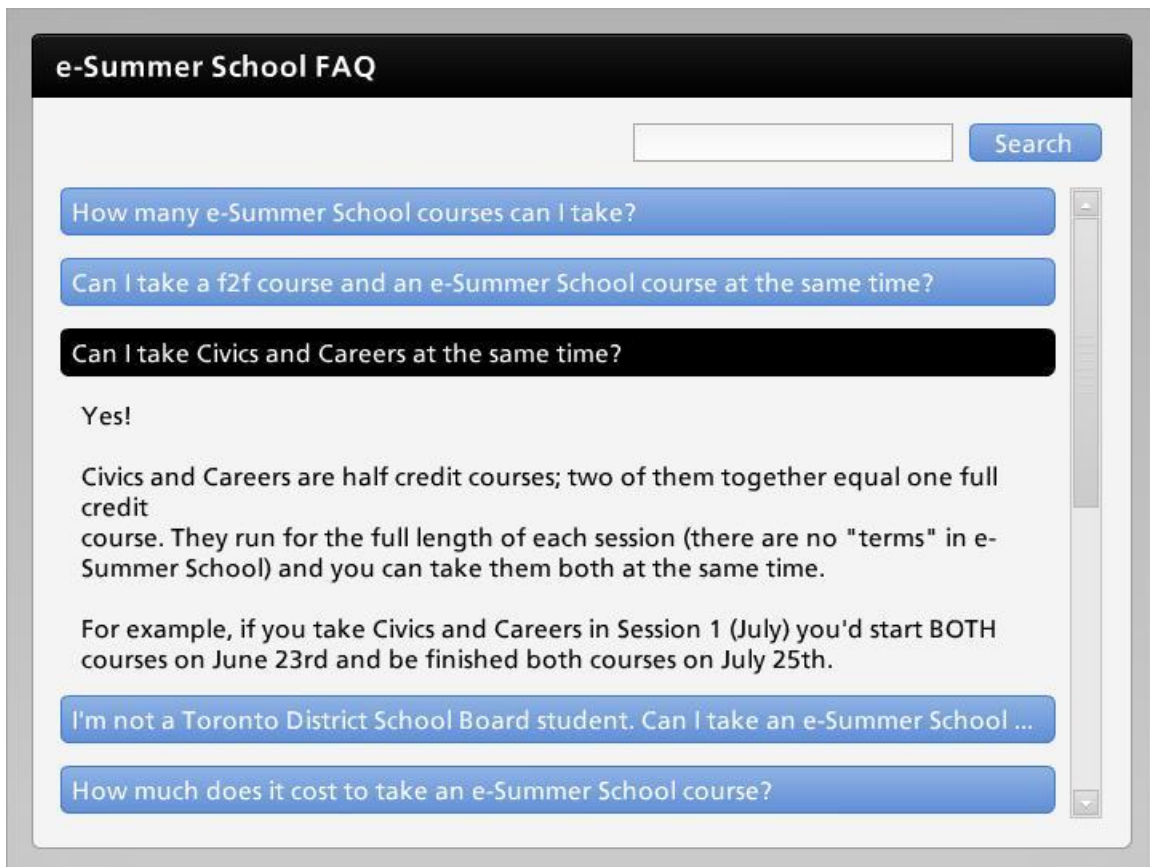

No. Just in case this wasn't clear enough we'll say it again:

Can I take Civics and Careers at the same time?

The screenshot shows a web page titled "e-Summer School FAQ". At the top right, there is a search bar and a "Search" button. Below the search bar are several blue question buttons. The third button, "Can I take Civics and Careers at the same time?", is highlighted with a black background. Below this button, the answer is displayed: "Yes! Civics and Careers are half credit courses; two of them together equal one full credit course. They run for the full length of each session (there are no "terms" in e-Summer School) and you can take them both at the same time. For example, if you take Civics and Careers in Session 1 (July) you'd start BOTH courses on June 23rd and be finished both courses on July 25th." Below the answer are two more blue question buttons: "I'm not a Toronto District School Board student. Can I take an e-Summer School ..." and "How much does it cost to take an e-Summer School course?".

Yes!

The screenshot shows a web page titled "e-Summer School FAQ". At the top right, there is a search bar and a "Search" button. Below the search bar are four blue buttons with white text, each containing a question. The fourth button, "I've submitted my course request online, is there anything else I have to do?", is highlighted with a black background and white text. Below this button, the answer is displayed in black text on a white background. The answer consists of three paragraphs: the first states that registration is not complete and requires approval from a guidance counsellor; the second provides instructions for students under 18 to obtain a parent/guardian permission form; the third encourages students to see their guidance counsellor as soon as possible because courses fill up quickly.

Yes! You haven't finished the registration process yet! Your guidance counsellor has to approve your course request in order to complete your registration.

If you're under 18, download and print out the parent/guardian permission form attached to your e-Summer School confirmation email. Get this form signed and take it to your guidance counsellor.

So hustle in and see your guidance counsellor as soon as you can and have your e-Summer School course request approved. Don't wait! Many of our courses fill up really quickly.

What if I can't attend the MANDATORY orientation session?

The screenshot shows a web interface for an e-Summer School FAQ. At the top, there is a search bar with a 'Search' button. Below the search bar, there are three question links in blue buttons: 'How much does it cost to take an e-Summer School course?', 'I've submitted my course request online, is there anything else I have to do?', and 'What if I can't attend the MANDATORY orientation session?'. The third link is highlighted in black. The answer to this question is displayed in a white box with a black background for the question text. The answer text is as follows:

If you are unable to attend your MANDATORY face-to-face 'meet the teacher' orientation session, YOU must arrange a makeup meeting to fulfill this enrollment requirement.

Makeup orientations can take place online via Adobe Connect web conferencing. As soon as your course begins, contact your teacher and ask to have a makeup orientation session via Adobe Connect.

If you don't attend the face-to-face orientation and didn't arrange a makeup meeting, you will be removed from your e-Summer School course.

Be proactive, it's a good thing!

If they have internet where you're going and you can commit to working on your course for 5-7 hours per day, sure.

Don't go to the cottage and whine to your teacher that you missed half the course because you couldn't get a wi-fi signal on the dock. You may be surrounded by the distractions of nature, but you still have to put in a full day of work on your e-Summer School course every day.

Same goes for foreign travel. If you're visiting your aunt in Krakow make sure her apartment has internet access before you go.

You've signed up for an online course; it's your responsibility to ensure you have internet access throughout the duration of your e-Summer School session.

I won't be able to attend the final face-to-face exam.

You will have to arrange for a proctor for your final exam. That's someone (not a family member) who is a member of an educational organization (professor, instructor, principal, librarian or teacher) who will supervise your exam outside of the GTA.

There is a strict process for proctored exams and all forms have to be completed and submitted well in advance of the start of your course.

Proctored exams must take place at the same time as face-to-face exams.

Does it matter if I use a Mac or a PC?

No. Desire2Learn (the platform for all TDSB e-learning courses) works fine on both Macs and PCs.

What's more important is to always use the most recent version of your browser. The most up-to-date versions of Chrome, Firefox, Safari and Internet Explorer all work with Desire2Learn.

DO NOT USE Internet Explorer 8. It doesn't work.
