Music students learn much more than how to play music and listen to music. They are continuously developing their sense of self, and respect for self and the dignity and welfare of others, by being part of a performance group. They gain valuable insight into the meaning of being an effective and contributing interdependent team member who exercises leadership. They achieve excellence, originality and integrity in their own work, and they learn to value those qualities in the work of others. They gain experience learning how to set appropriate goals and priorities in school, work and personal life, in order to meet the commitments of a performing ensemble.
