Parents, please review the character trait FAIRNESS with your child – see reverse

February 2023

“Fairness is one of the most significant traits in wisdom, the fairer you are, the wiser you become.”
(Pearl Zhu)

Your child can show fairness by:

- Playing and working fairly with others in the family.
- Treating family members with respect and without judgement.
- Treating others in the family in the way that they would like to be treated.

Questions to discuss with your child:

- What is fairness, and what does it mean to be fair?
- Do you treat others the way you would like to be treated?
- When someone is unfair, how does that make you feel?
- Does equality mean that everyone gets the same, or that everyone gets what they need?

Projects to do together:

- Watch a video clip or read a book together. Talk about the various ways in which certain characters acted unfairly toward each other. Discuss how the situation could have been avoided.
- Think about something unfair that is happening at home, at school, or in the community. What might be done about it? What could your role be to help improve this situation?

Encouraging fairness in your child:

- Listen to your child if they have a concern or request. Engage in fair discussion to resolve the concern.
- Show that fairness is important, and that it is crucial to treat others with respect and without judgment.
- Share a situation in which you felt you were treated fairly or unfairly, and describe how that impacted you.

Thank you for supporting our Character Development program.
