On the schedule, it was outlined that should the school be required to reschedule exams, that the rescheduled exams would be written on January 28.

As a result of the OSSTF one day walk-out that has been announced for January 21:

- the tutorial morning has been cancelled;
- the exams scheduled for January 21, will be written in the afternoon of Tuesday, January 28. The room locations will be the same as the ones outlined on the full exam schedule that was sent home with students on Tuesday, January 14.

Students not impacted by this change in schedule should still keep January 28 available in the unforeseen event of weather, where exams could still need to be rescheduled by the school.

Please note that exams written on January 28 will not be available for review on January 29. On Monday, February 3, classes will be dismissed at 3:05 p.m. so that students who wrote exams on January 28th will have the opportunity to see these exams with their teachers.

Thank you
