The News from Glenview Sr.P.S.

DEAR GLENVIEW FAMILIES

Welcome Mr. Parker and welcome to all new students and families to Glenview. We continue to be a close network with the ability to pivot and change during remote learning. We look forward to our return to Glenview and sharing in deep learning experiences, in the company of friends, colleagues and community.

Glenview Student Quote Corner: "This was our third week in online school! Although we have not been able to see our friends, peers and teachers I can say that everyone is doing their best job to communicate clearly to each other despite not being together. Being online is rough when you are by yourself and it can be unmotivating, but my teachers have been doing an amazing job to make us happy and for us to still be learning in the situation we are all in."-Evan P.

January 27th is recognized as International Holocaust Remembrance in honour of the 6 million Jewish women, men and children who were systematically, displaced, brutalized and murdered by the Nazi government during the Holocaust. It is important for us to remember the lessons from the tragic events of this time with an understanding of our responsibility to denounce sentiments and acts of anti-Semitism, anti-oppressive systems, practices and policies.

Students at Glenview joined their peers and others across Canada to view the launch of “The Tattooed Torah” and engage in discussions that promote human rights. Through this experience, our collective hope is for all of us to continue to advocate for these principles in a manner that honours the memory of those who were lost during the Holocaust, but not forgotten.

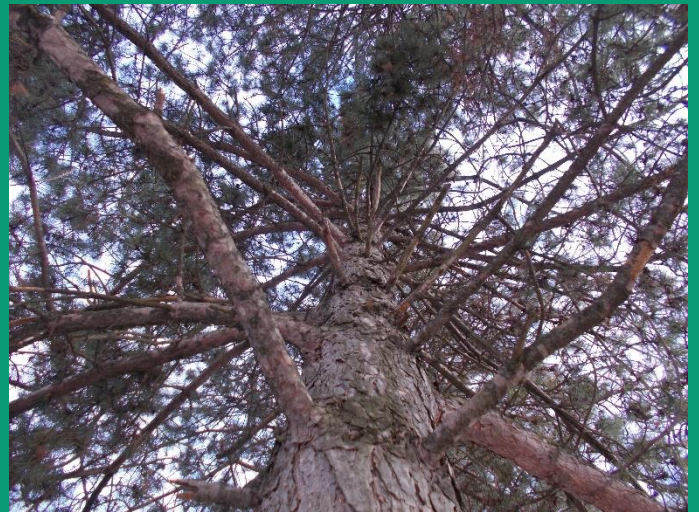

PHOTOGRAPHIE DIGITALE

*Notre classe, FE7B a aimé la photographie digitale... c'était fantastique! Le 15 décembre, nous avons travaillé ensemble et passé un bon moment dehors. Rebecca Carson, la professeure, a expliqué beaucoup à propos de la ligne, de la forme, de l'espace et de la texture. Nous avons étudié ces éléments en classe avec Madame Charlesworth, aussi. Après une petite leçon à propos des caméras, nous sommes allés à Chatsworth Ravine pour prendre des photos. Nous avons pris beaucoup de photos de la nature dans le ravin; les arbres, les feuilles, l'eau ou le paysage. Après, nous avons effacé quelques photos et nous avons gardé les photos concentrées sur la ligne, la texture, la forme et l'espace. Cette activité était très amusante à faire car il fallait explorer la nature et apprendre à prendre des photos à l'extérieur. Nous avons appris comment prendre des photos digitales, chercher le point focal et faire les photos macro. C'était très amusant.

*Le 14 décembre, Fe7a a participé dans un atelier avec Rebecca Carson, un professeur du centre de l'enseignement à plein air. Rebecca a donné un appareil photo digital à chaque étudiant dans la classe. Elle a fait une leçon sur les éléments du dessin comme la ligne, la texture, l'espace et la forme. Nous avons étudié ces éléments en classe avec Madame Charlesworth aussi. Après la leçon, nous sommes allés à Chatsworth Ravine pour prendre des photos. J'ai pris une photo d'un écureuil sur un arbre. J'aime vraiment cette photo parce que la texture de la queue de l'écureuil est très jolie. J'ai beaucoup aimé l'expérience parce que j'aime dessiner la texture dans toutes les images. J'ai aimé aussi entendre les commentaires enthousiastes de mes amis qui aiment mes photos et mes dessins. J'ai appris comment prendre des photos macro et c'était très amusant.

The morning of digital photography I had a great time and I learned so much! Digital photography tied into the art unit we were doing with Madame Charlesworth and it gave us a better understanding of the elements of art, texture, space, shape/form, line, color and value. The first thing that happened was that Rebecca, who was our digital photography leader, taught us how to use our cameras. In my opinion the coolest thing she taught us was how to take a macro photo, a close up of an object with a blurred background. After Rebecca taught us how to use our cameras, we walked through the Glenview field and around the ravine taking different types of photos using every element in different areas. Overall, I feel that it was a great experience and I'm glad I got the opportunity to participate in it with my friends! By Logan
