Class of 2020,

As children, we dream of how we'll celebrate our graduation based on those around us and the movies we watch. You imagine what you'll wear to prom and who you might go with. You picture yourself in a cap and gown, walking across that stage with your diploma in hand as your friends and family cheer you on. These are special moments for so many of you and I just want to say how sorry I am that yours have been put on hold.

For many reasons, I know this is a difficult situation, but please do not lose sight of what's important. From this day forward, you are and always will be a graduate of the Toronto District School Board. As they say, you did it! You have worked hard to get to where you are and your journey has truly just begun.

While official, in-person ceremonies had to be delayed to ensure the health and safety of our school communities, that does not mean that we are any less proud of you and all of your accomplishments. I hope that when your day comes, it is everything that you dreamed of and so much more.

For now, I want to wish you congratulations on your well-deserved success and all the best in your future endeavours.

Stay safe,
