Candy Chromatography from Room 322 and 325 - Ms. Mason and Ms. Pain

Students in Room 322 and Room 325 are learning to apply the scientific method in order to carry out investigations. This week, students were introduced to Chromatography - a technique used to separate mixtures. Students began by learning about some of the practical applications of Chromatography. Then, they conducted their own Paper Chromatography experiments with Halloween candy. They observed the way that the Chromatography paper absorbed and separated the colours in the candy's dye. The students enjoyed comparing different brands of candy and snacking on the leftover samples at the end of the experiment.

November Library News!

Morning Book Club - Please come and join us in the library for Morning Book Club every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 8:45am. Parents and students are welcome to come in to read, exchange books or simply sit for a few peaceful minutes before the school day begins. Happy reading!

Borrowing Books - Mandela students have been checking books in and out of our library for many weeks! It is now time for students to start bringing books home to borrow. Please find a book routine that works for your family - here are some tips:

- know your library day books must be returned every week
- keep books in a safe spot, away from food, drinks, pets, etc (in a 'library' basket?)
- books should travel back and forth to school inside a backpack to keep them clean and dry
- choose a spot to read each day with your child (lots of reading success tips to follow!) Happy reading!
