

BTT1/20 Information Technology

This course introduces students to the use of information technology in the business environment. Students will learn how to use information technology in a work environment, perform electronic research, communicate electronically and use business software.

Topics:

- Digital Literacy
- Productivity Software
- Design Software
- Business Communications
- Ethics and Issues in Information and Communication Technology

For more information, see a Business Studies Teacher